Please note that admission into a VCPM cohort signifies a participant's willingness to prioritize scheduled program seminars and assignments and the supervisor's signature denotes support for such prioritization (see page 3 of this application). Inability to complete all seminars with the same cohort could result in the participant's inability to complete the program.

Tuition: $2,300 in two installments: $1,150 for the first program year (billed July of year one); $1,150 for second program year (billed July of year two). CAPS will invoice your department unless you make alternative payment arrangement in advance.

I understand that I can expect to spend approximately four days each quarter (26-30 days total) attending class during work hours and approximately ten hours per month to independent work. Immediate Supervisor's Approval and Recommendation

I understand the VCPM Program requires a significant commitment on the part of the employee I am recommending for acceptance into the program (26- 30 days of classroom seminars, approximately 42 hours of between-seminar activity, and 60 - 80 hours for the consulting project). I understand there is no implied commitment for additional compensation or overtime pay for hours above a VCPM participant's regular schedule (though overtime compensation may be approved in accordance with the department's policy). I understand the VCPM Program is designed to incorporate multiple approaches to learning through its seminars, between-seminar application exercises, and the final capstone consulting project. In making this recommendation, I have considered how this commitment may impact the work of the unit I supervise and will fully support my employee's attendance at all seminars scheduled for the cohort to which my employee is accepted. I understand that all components and activities of the VCPM Program must be completed as a requirement of graduation.

Supervisor's Recommendation: Please tell us about this employee's readiness for the VCPM Program, ability to take on the additional activities of the program, and their leadership or leadership potential.

I acknowledge that if the employee is unable to complete the program there is no guarantee of a refund of any costs expended on behalf of the employee's participation in the program.
