Highlights for FY 2015:

In 2015, DHR took responsibility for the division overseeing the operation of the PeopleSoft Human Capital Management System, known as VTHR. The VTHR system is an integral part of the way DHR delivers services to its customers and we are continually working to improve the user experience with the system as well as best utilize the system information as a tool in statewide workforce planning and development.

The Division for Workforce Development was renamed The Center for Achievement in Public Service (CAPS). As a result of Employee Engagement Survey results, in 2015 CAPS developed and launched Supervising in State Government Level I: The Essentials. It is a four-day core program which is mandatory for designated supervisors and managers, and will be rolled out over the next two to three years. The CAPS team is now developing Level II, which will be available early 2016, and, in combination with Level I, will provide a comprehensive training program for designated supervisors and managers.

CAPS has been relocated to its post-Irene destination at 32 College Street in Montpelier, on the campus of the Vermont College of Fine Arts and offers its full range of services that support of the development needs of the Vermont state government workforce.

In May, DHR operations moved from two locations on State Street to the fifth floor of 120 State Street in Montpelier. The move has facilitated a more collaborative workplace and is in good proximity for many of our State customers.

DHR is continuously adjusting its recruitment strategy to ensure that we attract a diverse and talented workforce. In 2015, the DHR expanded its social media presence, with expanded use of social recruiting platforms as well as launching Facebook and Twitter pages, both of which provide more convenient accessibility to job postings for prospective applicants. DHR restructured and reassigned the Investigations Unit in 2015 in an effort to improve the timeliness of the investigative process, empower managers and supervisors to address issues promptly, ensure fair and consistent outcomes, and afford better use of limited resources. These actions occurred after consultation with Vermont state government senior leaders relative to their needs. The unit was reassigned to the Field Services and Training Division which provided managers with more direct access to assigned investigators and enhanced training relative to investigation practices and processes. The result of these changes were enhanced customer service, increased capacity in HR Field offices and a significantly improved timeframe for completion of investigations while maintaining a high-quality work product.

The State Employee's Wellness Program, known as LiveWell Vermont, provides all active and retired State employees access to a variety of wellness tools and resources, including a personal health assessment, exercise and nutrition plans, trackers and resources, workshops, a health library and more. As a result of encouragement, clinics, and screenings provided by the LiveWell team combined with participation incentives of up to $100, there was excellent involvement in this program with over 40% of employees completing health assessment surveys and participating in wellness based challenges.

In December, DHR launched a new website which, along with a sleeker look, is more user friendly and boasts additional useful information and resources for both prospective and current employees.

Summary

We continue to strive to provide Vermonters with a State workforce that sets the standard for excellence. Building a culture of excellence through a qualified, diverse and healthy workforce is key to the effective and efficient delivery of services, which Vermonters should expect and rightly deserve. The Department of Human Resources is proud to be entrusted with this mission.
